HONGKONG, JUNE 30TH, 1892.

THE aborigines of Formosa are not very far removed from savages, and it is probable that they are not very amenable to the improving influences of civilisation. But whether that be the case or not, it is certain they possess several savage virtues, among them being courage, hospitality, and regard for their pledges. These are virtues which the chiefless rulers of the Beautiful Island do not appreciate and rarely practise, hence it is no surprising that they should be at present warfare with that portion of the aborigines who still maintain their independence in the hilly regions of the eastern division. No matter how well inclined the Government might be to preserve good relations with these people, intercourse with the settlers soon develops some fresh pretext for a quarrel; the attempts to overreach are being quickly discovered and as quickly resented by these children of nature, who regard all the Chinese in profound distrust in consequence of past experience of their treachery. It is therefore small matter for surprise that hostilities are more or less rife on the frontier. During 1891 a rather prolonged truce prevailed, which did not till near the close of the year, when an outbreak took place near Tokoham, which has been carried on with great ferocity during the past six or eight months, though fighting has for the moment ceased, it is more on account of exhaustion than of any intention to peace on the part of either side. The latest information to hand was to the effect that the Chinese had captured Tokoham, under arms, as another outbreak is considered to be imminent. The soldiers meantime were dying off by the score from fever.

This warfare is very unpopular with the Chinese troops. There is great peril in it alike from surprises and from malaria, to say nothing of the stubborn nature of the foe when they do by rare chance meet in equare fight. Referring to this constant conflict with the aborigines, Mr. F. Hirth, Commissioner of Customs at Tamsui, says in his report for 1891,—"The savages of Formosa would be a difficult enemy for any body of troops to deal with. The abrupt steepness of the hills which separate the savage territories from the surrounding plains, inhabited by Chinese settlers, makes a natural stronghold, and the apelike swiftness with which these aborigines will ascend an almost perpendicular wall of rock, never attacking except with a safe retreat, firing from behind their hiding places, and hardly ever seen by the opposing force, which is thus kept in suspense for weeks, with continuous losses, without the chance of an open fight on equal terms—all this must have a discouraging effect on the plucky Hunan braves, whose ranks are moreover thinned by an enemy as powerful as the savages, namely, malarial fever." The aborigines, who are of course always over-matched in arms and often in numbers by the troops, naturally resort to every strategy within their knowledge in dealing with an enemy they have usually found relentless when successful in his operations. The Chinese soldiers, on their part, are thoroughly disgusted with a foe that is rarely visible but never far distant; they labour under the conscious disadvantage of being seen but seeing not; and their ranks are constantly being reduced by sickness. It is enough to take the heart out of even better men than the flower of the Chinese army, the Hunan soldiers who are sent to Formosa, because troops from other provinces have funked the savages. It was in Formosa where the first effort to provide an army medical staff was made at the suggestion of Dr. MYERS, yet we dare venture to suggest that the probabilities are all in favour of the Chinese troops at Tokoham being destitute alike of doctors and of quinine. The value of human life is not appreciated in China, where it teems so plentifully, and it is to be feared that the day is distant when anything like a medical organization will exist in the army. Meantime it is saddening to think of this hopeless and useless struggle in Formosa, which may go on for an even longer period than the Acheen war without any decisive result. Yet the aborigines are susceptible to kind and generous treatment, and invariably offer a friendly reception to foreigners. If the Governor could but restrain the Chinese from trespassing on the aboriginal reserves in pursuit of camphor, which they cut down ruthlessly, making large clearings on ground which the latter regard as their own, the causes for dispute would be materially lessened and these interminable conflicts in the dense and tangled jungles of Formosa, with their accompanying loss of life might be stopped.

The delivery of the Pedder Hall was begun at 2.45 p.m. yesterday.

Admiral Fournier, Commander of the French Squadron in Indo-China, left for Marseilles by the last homeward French mail.

The Agents (Messrs. Dodwell, Carlill & Co.) inform us that the steamer of the Northern Pacific steamship Phra Nang arrived in New York on the 25th inst.

Matsudaira Yoriyoshi, who recently claimed to be one of the murderers of the late Mr. Large, in Tokyo, has been returned to his old prison, after examination, his confession having proved, on investigation, a false story.

The Englishman concerned informs us that the version of the slight fracas on board the Honam reported to us is not correct. He was convinced that cheating was going on and remonstrated, but as that had no effect he knocked off the hat of one of the players so as to stop the game. He was then "shadowed" till the steamer arrived, and identified when he got on to the wharf, and naturally defended himself. He had not been taking any part in the game nor had he had anything to drink.

A special telegram to the Straits Times from Penang, dated the 22nd June, says:—"Warrants have been issued to-day at the instance of Mr. Wreford (the Assistant Official Assignee) charging with criminal breach of trust Messrs. John and Lawrence Brown. The sums named in the case of John Brown are $19,000 odd; and in the case of Lawrence Brown $24,000. Both surrendered and were released on bail. The trial of the case is fixed for the 29th inst." The accused were partners in the late firm of Brown & Co., of Penang.

The friends here of Colonel, then Major, Harrison, of The Buffs, will be interested to read the following from an Indian paper:—"Colonel Harrison, Commanding The Buffs, left Calcutta for England on the 23rd May by the steamer Golconda. The whole regiment turned out to bid their popular commanding farewell. They unyoked the horses and dragged his carriage from the fort to the jetties, cheering on route and the band playing 'Auld Lang Syne.'"—Colonel Harrison got command of the 1st battalion; he was here with the 2nd battalion.

The Tsingkiang-pu correspondent of the Daily News, writing on the 17th June, says:—There is no danger of a famine in this district as far as the wheat crop goes. It is just now being harvested and is good, though not one tenth of the country people will acknowledge it, because soon they will have to pay the taxes and the tax collectors (i.e. yamen squeezers) will see what they have and against them. Notwithstanding the fields may be laden with a golden harvest the country people are shrewd enough to say that it is only a "fair crop" and "will pass."

The following circular was issued yesterday by the local manager to all creditors of the New Oriental Bank Corporation, Limited, within reach:—"I have this morning received telegraphic information from my Head Office in London to the effect that there is every probability of an early reconstruction of this bank. The appointment of a liquidator has been delayed for one week long'r, and the success of the scheme will depend entirely upon the extra support received during that time. I have obtained the consent of a good many creditors to the following:—one half of their claims to be converted into 5 per cent. preference stock, and the remaining half guaranteed not to be withdrawn for one year. If you can give your support to this form of settlement I shall be glad to receive your early reply. If you are unwilling to convert one half of your claim into Preference Stock, please let me know what smaller proportion you are prepared to accept. A general agreement must be arrived at, and the stronger the support received, the better it will be for the interests of all concerned. I need hardly point out to you how strong the position of this Bank will be if the above scheme is carried out, and what a saving of the creditors' money will be effected if liquidation is avoided."—Advices were received by Mr. Rutter by French mail yesterday from the manager in Mauritius (Mr. Weenyes) announcing that the New O. B. C. has followed no losses of any consequence over the late disastrous hurricane in that Island, all minor advances having been amicably settled. The rumours that have been circulated here to a contrary effect are therefore groundless.

The silk per Empress of Japan, from Hongkong 24th May, was delivered in New York on the 29th inst.

The Chinese cruiser Kuangpeiao, Captain Yu Hing-fu, arrived here yesterday from Canton, and left again for Foochow.

The British barque Nicaya, Captain T. Norris, which arrived here yesterday from Bangkok, made a quick run of it, having done the passage in fourteen days.

It is said that the Saigon-Mytho railway company is about to run an express train which will do the distance in one and a half hours, i.e., fifty kilometres per hour.

A brilliant bolis, apparently of the size of the moon, was observed on the night of the 19th instant about nine o'clock, says the Saigon Progrès, in the direction of Hien-hoa. It appeared to move from W. to E.

A telegram was received here yesterday announcing that the steamer Glengyle, with a cargo of tea from Hankow for London, had got aback in the mud of the Yangtsze near Kiukiang. She will no doubt get off without sustaining much damage.

Experiments made with the telephone at long distances have proved a success, says the Progrès de Saigon, at New York. American experts think that it will be possible to practically telephone across the Atlantic. Trials will also soon be made between Melbourne and London.

The arrival of the American ship Sterling, with a cargo of kerosene oil yesterday, dispelled some apprehensions for her safety which had arisen owing to her being overdue. She left New York on the 16th December last, and had therefore been more than six months on the voyage.

We remind our readers of the opening performance by the Stanley Opera Company, who arrived here yesterday, to be given this evening at the Theatre Royal, City Hall. The best and popular comic opera "The Nautch Girl," an successfully run at the Savoy Theatre, will be produced on this occasion for the first time in Hongkong. With such an attraction there will no doubt be a crowded house.

A telegram in the Madras Mail from Bombay, dated the 11th June, states that a run on the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank there:—There was a run on the Hongkong Bank yesterday by the native depositors. The bank paid out freely, some twenty lakhs being withdrawn up to 3 p.m. Even the fixed deposits were paid at 1 per cent. discount with loss of interest. The bank's doors were kept open till 5 o'clock last night.

Music hath charms! As the military band was playing one evening at Saigon, a beautiful tame deer came prominently among the astonished spectators and appeared to listen with much pleasure to the harmonious sounds of the instruments. It consented to be approached and caressed by the Europeans, and showed no uneasiness at the barking of a number of dogs which followed it. The animal is the property of an official and was taken back to its owner by the police.

Another cheap excursion to Macao. Weather permitting (it is a great factor) the Hongkong, Canton, and Macao Steamboat Co.'s steamer Heinam will make a special trip to the Holy City on Sunday next, the occasion being a grand religious procession and a Fancy Fair in the Public Gardens. If the procession and Fair were held a little earlier it would be more convenient for visitors, who find the hour of return (midnight) rather late. Perhaps our Macao friends will take the hint and thus attract a larger number of visitors. We understand it is probable that the Portuguese Amateur Band will accompany the excursionists.

The Progrès de Saigon says that on the night of the 11th instant a collision took place between the steamer Francis Garnier, and the excise steam-launch Nghiem-Sone. It appears that the launch was on her way from Cape St. James to Saigon carrying the servants and baggage of the Governor-General. A little way below the Nam-Binh she was run into by the Garnier, but [illegible] steamed her engine when the [illegible] launch [illegible] the blow was not very heavy, affording sufficient time for the Garnier and another launch, the Victoire, to save all hands and baggage, whilst the launch itself was taken in tow and safely beached. She can easily be floated, as in low water tide she lies high and dry. A commission has been appointed to enquire into the circumstances attending the collision and to determine the responsibility of the accident.

A correspondent of the Times of Ceylon writes on the 9th instant:—An unprecedented event in the annals of the history of local Buddhism is shortly going to take place, and this will be the ordination of a Western layman (Scotch) as a Buddhist priest. This gentleman, Mr. MacMillan, arrived from London last Saturday morning by the Clan Mackenzie, and has taken up his lodgings at the Theosophical headquarters. He is an active member of the Theosophical Society and was a fellow of the lodge at Manchester. Mr. MacMillan is quite a young man and has given up all family ties and position for the sake of Theosophy and has come to Ceylon to study Pali and Buddhism under the chief abbot, Sumangala of the Oriental College at Maligakanda. He is now making the necessary preparations to enter the new life and join the ecclesiastical order. His admission to the order will be the occasion of much rejoicing among all classes of Buddhists.

A three days' golf competition at Happy Valley for the McEwen Handicap Challenge Cup begins to-day. The membership of the Club has of late been steadily increasing, so that despite the absence of many naval players, there should be a large field. Should more rain fall the course will be in as bad condition as it can well be. The long grass in certain parts is rather tantalising, but the putting greens as a rule run true and are not too heavy. The soaked condition of the ground will furnish opportunities for good iron play, so necessary in a course abounding in streams and ditches. Handicapping presents as many difficulties in Hongkong as at home, and without in any way reflecting upon the Committee, who have done their utmost, it may be doubted whether the competitors will start fairly level. The course may be said to be a "duffer's links," and the scratch man must do a particularly brilliant round to take the honours from a player with a handicap of 30 or more. A monthly medal competition is a good means of ascertaining the form of players, and great help as a Committee in handicapping for more important contests, but unfortunately no such competition exists here, and the Committee have to be guided to a great extent in fixing the handicaps by their own personal knowledge.

The appended items are taken from the London and China Express of the 27th ult.:—

The steamer Arcadia has arrived from the East with £35,802 in bar gold from Shanghai.

The Kingsin Line has ordered a new steamship to be built for the Japan line. The new boat will be 320 feet long, and is to carry over 3,000 tons.

Those engaged in the China and Japan trade will learn with interest that Mr. Henry Wiggin, M.P., [illegible] head of the firm of Messrs. Wiggin and Co., [illegible]ngham, is one of the recipients of the Birthday Honours, being created a Baronet of the United Kingdom.

The feeling of relief is great, says a Service paper, that the last has been heard of the Hearson case. Many sympathise with this officer, and consider that the Admiralty should have given his permission to resign, though the refusal to do so with the object of taking up an appointment in China was by no means without justification, considering the conduct of the Government of that country towards Admiral Lang. Although Mr. Hearson has incurred a large amount of debt, he is looked upon as having been on the whole extremely lucky, for it is now authoritatively laid down that the decision of the Divisional Court was wrong in allowing a Habeas Corpus to go to release this officer on the ground that his arrest and detention were illegal. Being allowed to go free, he would have done better to have exercised discretion and not had, what Lord Esher termed, the audacity to bring his action for false imprisonment. It is, however, a public advantage to have had the opinion distinctly expressed by Lord Esher and Lord Justice Fry that an officer cannot under any circumstances resign without the consent of the Crown.

Many regrets will be felt at the death of the eminent French engineer, M. Joseph Martin, which has just occurred at Mengtsze in Yunnan, whilst on his homeward journey from Peking. M. Martin has done much exploring in Mongolia and Central Asia, particularly the tract of country lying between the western frontier of China and Khotan.

The Adriatische Sicherheitsbrief Gesellschaft (Adriatic Coasting Lloyd) Hamburg, for 1891 has had a profit on the year to the amount of m.197,822, of which after deducting all expenses, an amount remains of m.84,404 which is applied to writing off portions for the first. The Capital of the company consists of m.1,50,000, and the fleet consists of three steamers, viz. Tasso, Taichow, and Tulyin.

General Viscount Wolseley forms the subject of the twenty-eighth service portrait in the Broad Arrow. It mentions that he went out with the 90th in 1852 for the intended Chinese Expedition, and was among the earliest troops that were diverted to India on the outbreak of the Mutinies. He remained on Sir Hope Grant's Staff throughout the China Expedition. At the end of that war brilliant as his services had been, he received no promotion, being granted only an unattached majority, for which he was by no means anxious.

THE CASE OF CHAN QUI CHEUN—THE GOVERNOR'S ORDER—OVERRULED.

The case in which Chan Qui Cheun applied to be discharged from the custody of the police, by whom he was at present detained pending his deportation from the colony for a term of five years under order of the Governor in Council, came before the full Court for decision.

Mr. J. J. Francis, Q.C. (instructed by Messrs. Ewens and Rees), appeared to support the application for habeas corpus, which had been granted on the 25th, returning on the 27th, but extended until the 30th.

The Acting Attorney-General (Mr. A. J. Leach) opposed on behalf of the Crown.

Mr. Francis moved that the return of the writ should be read which was done. He then proceeded to submit that the prisoner was entitled to be discharged from the custody of the police. The only ground on which he was detained was made under the provisions of Section 3 of Ordinance 8 of 1882 and section 4 of Ordinance 4 of 1885. The Ordinance was entitled "The Banishment and Conditional Pardons Ordinance, 1882." Section 2 says:—"When any person not being a natural born or naturalised subject of Her Majesty having been convicted of any offence punishable by imprisonment and then within twelve months after the expiration of any term of imprisonment which he may have suffered for such offence been convicted of any offence punishable by imprisonment, such person may at any time be required by any Magistrate to find reasonable security for his appearance in any Court for any purpose, and at any time within twelve months, and every adjudication to that effect shall be made in open Court, and reported forthwith to the Governor; and such person not finding such security shall be deemed a person dangerous to the peace of the colony." Section 3 says:—"The Governor in Council may, by order, prohibit any person not being a natural born or naturalised subject of Her Majesty from residing or being within this colony during any space of time not exceeding five years, and may, by the same or any subsequent order, fix the departure of such person from the colony. Every order made under this section prohibiting any person from residing or being within this colony shall contain a statement of the grounds upon which it is made." The other section is as follows:—"It shall be in the discretion of the Governor in Council to order that the person named in any such order be detained in custody of the police until he leaves the colony, and such person may thereupon be arrested, and shall be deemed to be under lawful arrest until he leaves the colony or until the final departure from the colony of any vessel in which he leaves." The order in this case prohibits the applicant from residing or being in the colony for the five years from the date thereof, and fixes one month as the time within which he shall depart; and it directs that the applicant be detained in custody of the police until he leaves. The grounds upon which it is made are stated to be—"that the applicant is a "suspicious and dangerous character well known as such to the police." It is objected that the order, which is signed by the Acting Clerk of the Council, does not sufficiently appear to be an order of the Governor in Council, but I think that the return of the writ whereon it is stated to be an order of the Governor in Council cannot be disputed in that respect. It is further objected that the power of the Governor in Council to make an order under section 3 of Ordinance 8 of 1882 is confined to cases when an alien has been ascertained to be dangerous to the peace of the Colony under the provisions of section 2 of the same Ordinance, and further that the order is bad—in the first place, because no opportunity was given to the applicant to show cause why it should not be made, and secondly, because the order itself does not sufficiently state the grounds upon which it was made. I desire to rest my decision upon the last ground only. Assuming, as the Attorney-General contends that the power to banish vested in the Governor in Council extends to every alien they may deem to be "dangerous to the peace of the Colony," who has ascertained under section 2 or not, it would, not in my opinion be sufficient to state as the grounds of a banishment order "that the said A. B. is a person dangerous to the peace of the Colony." The necessity to state the grounds has been enjoined for the protection of the party proceeded against, but it is no protection to state merely the head or nature of the complaint. Moreover, if, as is contended, the Governor in Council can issue an order of this kind without first giving the party to be banished an opportunity of being heard against it, it is the more obviously just and necessary that the latter should at any rate be informed of the reasons why the order is made. He could then at least apply for a reconsideration of the matter if the Governor in Council had been mistaken or deceived, or he could resort to any other means which might be open to him if the facts upon which the Governor in Council proceeded were not sufficient to warrant an order. In this case the grounds stated are that the applicant "is a dangerous and suspicious character well known as such to the police". Whatever meaning can be attached to the expressions "the police" and "dangerous and suspicious character"—which are rather conventional than exact—the grounds as stated in the order convey no information to the applicant. They do not tell him or even indicate to him what he has done. They are the conclusions upon which the order is made and not in any liberal sense the ground for making it. I think that the decision of the Court of Exchequer in the case of Capel v. Childs, 2 Cr. and Jarris. 558, is distinctly in point. There the Bishop in making requisition for the nomination of a curate stated [illegible] Regulation under which the requisition was made, to state the grounds upon which it was made, and it was held to be insufficient to state as the grounds the inadequacy of the performance of the duties in consequence of the negligence of the incumbent, but that the facts out of which the negligence proceeded should be stated. If, therefore, a banishment order can be made because a person is dangerous to the peace of the Colony, the facts out of which the danger arises must appear in the statement of grounds. The objection to the grounds in the present order is not one of mere form. It might affect the justice of the proceedings. I think it is fatal both to the order of banishment and that for arrest depending upon it. I had some little doubt whether the writ was properly issued under the Statute of Charter. As the correctness of the return is not disputed the objection is not a substantial one. I think, however, that the arrest may be said to refer to a supposed criminal matter within the statute. As the Attorney-General did not press the objection I think we need not pursue it further. Applicant discharged.

The Acting Puisne Judge said—I am also of opinion that the applicant in this case must be discharged from custody. It appears to me that the order made by the Governor in Council under section 3 of Ordinance 8 of 1882 is bad upon the face of it because it does not sufficiently state the grounds upon which it was issued. It simply asserts "that the said Chan Cun Cheun is a suspicious and dangerous character well known as such to the police." Now it seems to me with all respect, that that is an insufficient notice to the party concerned of the grounds of his deportation, and, by its very vagueness, deprives him of all opportunity of showing cause against it. I think that the case of Capel v. Childs is directly in point, and that the reasons which induced the Governor in Council to order the deportation ought to have appeared clearly upon the face of the order. The applicant therefore must be discharged from custody.

THE "HONAM" SQUABBLE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

SIR,—In justice to the parties condemned, allow me a small space for the following:—Referring to the little squabbling on board of the Honam, or rather on the wharf immediately after the arrival of the steamer on her return trip from Macao, on Monday morning, the watchman who was mixed up in that affair was at once dismissed, but upon investigation was re-instated by order of the Secretary of the company, who found that he had been unfairly dealt with, as what he did was simply in the performance of his duties in putting a stop to quarrels on board.

Allow me, Sir, also to say a few words with regard to this watchman. He was formerly a member of the Macao Water Police in which service he on more than one occasion distinguished himself for his tact and bravery in the capture of pirates, and humanity in saving life in the water, for all of which he holds a medal from the Government. His general conduct has been exemplary, being efficient, painstaking, and submissive to his superiors. The reason for his leaving the Police was that he did not care to further expose himself to the dangers of being shot by pirates, not, however, because he is afraid to face death but because he has still an old mother who is entirely dependent on him.

The above incident should not by any means spoil Hongkongites the pleasure of another excursion trip to Macao next Sunday, when there will be a grand procession of Corpus Christi, on which occasion all the available men of the garrison, the marines will turn out, as guard of honour, this being a Government festival. There will also be the annual administration of confirmation to the little fellows, many of whose god fathers are in Hongkong, and it is the shooting's continuation of last Saturday's match will be held. So that sufficient inducement is offered to Hongkongites to make a trip to the Holy City and it would pay the Steamboat company to again detail the favourite Honam for that purpose. One thing, however, should be provided against, that is, no gambling should be tolerated on board.—I am, &c.,

THE DISTURBANCE AT PATSHAN.

[FROM A CORRESPONDENT.]

PATSHAN, 27th June.

In a proclamation dated the 18th instant which has just been posted up, the Hsien of Patshan promises to deprive of his office the official in charge of the likin station in question and hint at the same time now left to the discretion of the people that the table of taxes to be imposed on goods, where these are found to be in excess of weight or number over that mentioned in the clearance, should be publicly exposed. According to this table as it is now hid before the public, if the duties which should be legally paid and which have been tried to be evaded range below 1 tael, a fine of double that amount will be imposed; if it should be above 1 tael and below 2 taels, the fine will be trible the legal amount, if it should be above 2 taels and below 3 taels, the fine will be four times higher than the duties evaded; above 3 taels and below 4 taels, five times higher than the proper duties; above 4 taels and below 5 taels, five six times. If it should be above 5 taels, half the goods will be confiscated. After the posting up of the proclamation the people seemed to be satisfied, and several junks which have been so long on strike left here for Canton to resume business. It is rumoured that the shops here are to reopen their doors on the 29th, and so the strike may be expected to be at an end very soon.

CANTON NOTES.

His Excellency Kiang Ngai, the New Governor of Canton, on the 25th instant gave up the seal of his former office in Kiangsu and is to start on his journey for Canton on the 3rd proximo. The Viceroy of the Two Kwangs has already sent a war-junk up North to receive him.

A new fire service of foreign and Chinese has lately been introduced into use in the Ta Tong street. It was brought by public fund subscribed by the various shopkeepers of the street. It has very strong hoses which when put down into the river can draw ample supplies of water, even from a great distance. The firemen in charge of this new engine are to have a monthly drill. A few days ago when a trial was made, everything was found to work very satisfactorily.

There is an old proverb in Chinese, "Everything that is useful to one way must be harmful in another", or, put in another way, "No pin is sharp at both ends." So it was the case lately in Canton. In view of the many cases of robbery that have recently occurred the shopkeepers in several streets as a matter of precaution ordered that the gates be shut early every evening, allowing only an opening that scarcely a officer for the admission of one person at a time. The opening is so narrow indeed that when a man passes it, he has either to let his right arm or his left arm go first. So if he carries an umbrella in his hand or a bird's feather fan, the value of which often ranges from $10 to $30, and is commonly used in the summer, the thief often takes the opportunity when the man is passing the gate to snatch it from behind him and make away as fast as he can. Should it happen that the man or carrier in the hand that is put through first, some scamtrals who are hiding on the other side watching for passers-by will also exercise their skill in snatching. It will be seen therefore that for those gates with valuables in hand is a matter of risk, requiring due caution. And to apply the proverb, while the closing of the gates may prevent some robberies, it unwittingly affords opportunities for others quite unthought of at the time.

MINING IN PERAK.

Mr. Wray, the Curator and State Geologist of Perak, in the State Museum Report for 1891, gives the following mining information:—

The Salama Tin Mining Company's mine at Kuala Salama was definitely abandoned during the year. A shaft of 157 feet had been sunk and levels driven at 35 feet 60 feet, and 147 feet to intersect a lode which was supposed to exist. This, however, was a misapprehension, and what was taken for a lode was in reality a fault filled in with rubble, and the whole consisted, together with oxide of iron. The ties on which was obtained in the first [illegible] from a [illegible] bounded on one side by the rubble filled fault and on the other by a clay-filled fault. Without doubt, this piece of rock has moved a considerable distance from its original position, and the part of the bed of rock from which it has come has long since been destroyed by the denuding action of the rain, &c.

In the Blanda Mabok valley, lumps of tin and lead ore were, in the first instance, found in the alluvial working by the Inspector of Mines, and Mr. Macdonald was put on to prospect, without however, finding anything but a few more lumps of ore. Mr. Bishop then began prospecting, and his men came on to a lode lower down the valley. The Mines Department put in a tunnel, the spot selected by the Inspector of Mines and myself to try to intersect the higher lode, and after some work had been done the Mines Department decided to stop work, but as it seemed more than likely that a lode was not far off the work was continued by the Museum, and in July, 1890, a vein of quartz, containing tin and lead-ore, was struck in the east cross-cut. The vein was followed into the hill for a distance of 0 feet, from the place where it was first cut until it reached the hard black rock which it was found to go into. By boring, this vein was proved to a length of 175 feet. The work was then stopped, and the Salama Tin Mining Company took it up and have continued the drive along the lode at adit level, making a total length of 318 feet and have sunk a shaft nearly at the point where the Government left off prospecting, to a depth, from the surface, of 123 feet—vertical down to the adit and then on the dip of the lode. Both in the adit and down the shaft the vein, with the exception of a few nearly horizontal slides, has continued with great regularity. In the bottom of the shaft it has widened out to three feet, but in the adit continues a little under two feet thick. The main vein is very patchy, but with depth and a change of "country" it may increase. There is reason to believe that there is a soft sandstone underlying the rock in which the veins are hitherto been carried on but it is not possible to determine at what depth the black rock will be met through.

Plumbe's lode has been sunk on by the same company to a depth of 36 feet, but work has been suspended for a time while the shaft on the other lode is being sunk.

The gulens from both these lodes is rich in silver. Besides the tin and galena there is also blende (zinc sulphide) and arsenical iron pyrites contained in the lode stuff.

At Tekka Mengambu, in Krian, the Selama Company have sunk on to the deposit of ore to a depth of 7 ft. This deposit consist, in the ordinary condition of the tin-stone, of alluvial lodes [illegible] bles more near [illegible] it is called a pipe [illegible] The tunnels which have been driven at the 8, feet level prove that it has no lateral extension. I have shown it lower than the first level, and at that depth it was looking very well.

At the Mangkamba mine very little has been done during the year, beyond raising some of the ore which was exposed by the Chinamen who originally opened the mine. There is still in the floor of the mine a large deposit of ore, and it would only be necessary to lower the pump in order to raise it. One hundred tons of this ore shipped to England have realised $7 10s. per ton, and other shipments rather lower in price. The deposit as far as it has yet been exposed, is not a lode, but is what is called a "bruli," that is, it has been deposited by the water coming up through a lode. Rounded quartz stones are met with amongst the most solid masses of ore. The greatest depth at which ore has been cut by boring is 60 feet from the surface. All work has been stopped since July, and it is much to be regretted that this, the most promising deposit of ore hitherto discovered in the State, should have fallen into the hands of people who have apparently no intention of doing anything to and raising and selling the exposed metal.

The other indications of lodes which have been discovered from time to time in Kinta have been in many cases applied for by people who neither have any capital to work them nor are able to raise any, and I venture to think it should be considered whether the present system of granting prospecting licenses should not be so modified as to prevent people holding land indefinitely in the hope of being able to sell to some bond fide prospector, without doing any prospecting themselves, or spending any money beyond the $25 for the license.

In the early part of the year boring was done at Ayer Dean Sung for Mr. H. Muellerhaus. It was considered by Mr. F. Taylor, who was directing the work, that the ore was not of sufficient size for the work [illegible] view of the character of [illegible] vain, I was not satisfied [illegible] opened, and did some [illegible] meantime, but for [illegible] Limited, in extent [illegible] 6 ft. 2 in. wide, and [illegible] eight feet, it is just [illegible] the top of the limestone formation, and the rock is much [illegible] and it appears that it is valuable [illegible] underlying soapstone beds of rocks come to the surface.

Boring was done at Mangkamba, as mentioned above, and at the end of the year some holes were put down on the east side of the Kinta river.

At the Lahat Iron road, near the thirty-second milepost, is a large mass of ore in decomposed granite on which I did some prospecting. On clearing away the surrounding earth it was found that it was cut off by the abrupt enlargement of several nearly horizontal leaders. On either side these leaders dwindle away to a few inches in thickness and, going back into the hill, the mass of ore thins off and nearly dies out at a distance of 50 feet from the road, at which place it is 10 or 12 feet in thickness. The ore contains arsenical iron pyrites, with small quantities of tin and copper.

A dressing roof was erected at Jaaka, in Batang Padang, by the putting of the new road to Bidor. Large samples of this were taken for assay, as all round it gold has long been worked, but it was found not to contain any of the precious metal.

Near Tapah a quantity of plumbago was found, but it is too much mixed with the rock in which it occurs to be of other than scientific interest. At Sorokai, Kliau Tekling and Ayer Dean Sung I found manganese ore, which, I believe, the first that has been reported in Perak. A very interesting fact was brought to notice by the Magistrate of Batang Padang, who forwarded a sample of what turned out to be fine-grained native copper. It occurs in thin layers with the auriferous tin lode at Kling Bharat, near Tapah. It is mostly in small crystalline grains, and its original source is at present unknown, though it cannot have travelled far, as the grains are sharp and raw.

I have marked the positions of two of the late indications in Larut and Krian (all that, in the absence of Mr. Pike, I could find), by connecting them on the Land Office sheets. This has involved over 60 miles of traversing, but as these stones will now be fixed by the Survey Department, it will be easy in future to find these outcrops even though they may have been buried under heaps of overburden, &c.

THE P. & O. STEAM NAVIGATION CO.

The report of the Board of Directors states:—The movements of the fleet during the period of this report have been characterised by the utmost regularity and, by complete immunity from accident. The contract for carrying out a fortnightly service between Venice, Brindisi, and Alexandria was entered into with the Italian Government in 1881, and expired on Dec. 31 last, through efflux of time. The ar
